STUDENT TO STUDENT FEEDBACK WHEELS!

PANICKED TEACHER
Students can use the sentence starters to offer objective and honest feedback for their peers. These also make an impressive bulletin board when attached to the writing piece that is being reviewed! I have received very positive comments regarding these feedback wheels and I hope that you do as well!
What Is Student Feedback?

* Student feedback is when another student gives honest and objective ideas about their partner’s work.

* "Positive feedback" allows you to be encouraging and supportive while specifically telling your partner how they did a good job.

* "Needs to improve feedback" allows you to tell your partner how they can make it better.

* "Asking questions" allow you to ask a question about anything you are curious about after reading another student’s work.
